Download This poster acts like a newspaper report guide, which shows you how to create the exact format of a perfect and standardized newspaper report with help on tone, how to write an introduction, and more. This report template sample will help you with making the perfect report worth reading for your organization.Create a Newspaper Report in 5 StepsStep 1: Collect All the InformationThe first step to creating a report would be that you should have all the possible information required to write a perfect report. Collect all the information you can about the topic you are writing your report on. The research will be of great help, so be thorough with it without fail. Newspaper templates will be of great help to you for creating the best reports for your newspaper organization.Step 2: Decide On the HeadlineOnce you have all the information you need, decide on the headline for your report. While doing this, remember that your headline should match what you are writing in the report, which means that it should be relevant. One glance at the headline and your reader should be able to understand what you are trying to say through your report.Step 3: Byline and DatelineA byline is something that comes below the headline of the article, where the writer's name is mentioned. A dateline consists of the date the report was written. This will make it clear as to who wrote the report and when was it written exactly. Since the news must have already reached most of your readers through the internet, make sure that you have the right amount of information put in the report and the points that might not be present on the internet for them.Step 4: The ReportYour report should include the introduction, the body, and the final conclusion. Mention all the possible details and mainly, cover the 5W's and one H- who, what, when, where, why and how. This should be enough for your reader to understand everything you want to say to them about the situation. Newspaper design templates will show you how to design the best report and the perfect newspaper for your media organization.Step 5: ConclusionTell your readers to take necessary action if needed. For example, if it is a report that demands action from the public, then make sure that you convey that through your article. Give them a reason to react and how would they benefit from it.If you are looking to focus on a big elegant image for the lion's share of the cover page of your newspaper with bare essential text, this newspaper template would be handy for you.The above editable newspaper template works as a subtle guide for kids who need ideas on how to present a report on a newspaper with the help of the instructions that are offered on what to put where along with an already designed report composition.Download6. Vintage Newspaper ReportsIt gives you exposure to working in bigger firms if your work is good and gets recognized by a prospective news agency. You can highlight important details in black and use old writing styles with new and fresh content. Free reports are available online for you to download on any electronic device and edit it the way you want.The report template should not involve a lot of color and texture as it is the content that makes the report unique from others so keep it simple and your reader's main focus should be only on the content. Use our templates to avoid creating the perfect report from scratch. Just hit the download button and make the necessary changes by adding the details you need to add.Making a market research report is an essential part of planning a business and it keeps you more organized and documented.Advertising is one of the most sources of revenue for any newspaper or magazine. This advertising report features encouraging results and determines the best advertising strategies you need to put it for the growth of your company. It helps you keep a check on your advertising expenditure and income respectively. This could also be a sample action report templates as it makes the reader think about what action can they take on this advertisement.7. Newspaper Weather Report Illustration TemplateIt is very important for a newspaper to contain the weather report for that particular day. It is most likely that this will help the readers understand what kind of weather that they are looking at for the day and what are the necessary precautions they need to take to be careful if and when required. Illustrations always play a major role in making a person understand the topic better, so use the best illustrations you possibly can to show your reader what you want to convey to them. News stories will always have a special place in our lives. Do you want to make a difference through news writing? Then you are reading the right article that could help you accomplish this for we have provided nine news report writing examples as well as news report writing tips that can definitely aid you as you pave your way toward being the catalyst of change in people's lives.All About News Report Writingtcdsb.orgDetailsFile FormatSize: 685 KBDownloadNews Report Writing Taskkdsb.caDetailsFile FormatSize: 735 KBDownloadTips for Better News Report WritingHere are a few additional tips that can also apply to write in general:Never be too verbose. Your reports do not have to be too complicated because, if you are indeed a news report writer, you should never ever make it as a medium for you to showcase your wide vocabulary or your excellent command of the English language. When writing news reports, you have to be direct without compromising the quality and the relevant information. You have to make sure that you have chosen your words and construct your sentences properly so you will be able you construct a news story that is concise and brief but still informative.Maintain only less than 25 words when constructing your sentences and also make sure that you keep and contain only a single idea all throughout your sentence. Anything more will always be considered as too wordy and it will always be an extra effort to the readers of the general public.Just use a simple subject-verb-object form. Do not complicate things. News just have to be simple.Never use a lot of commas. Again, keep things simple. Break down unnecessary compound or complex sentences into different sets of sentences. Do not repeat the same information in succeeding paragraphs. In each of the paragraph that you create, always introduce a new information that will aid or support the initial information mentioned in the preceding paragraph.Having more than three prepositional phrases into a single sentence is never ideal.Putting more than three numbers in a single sentence does not look good and convenient for the readers. If the numbers are important, you can have it on a tabular form or in a list form. This can help in making your news report convenient and comfortable to read.Keep in mind that writing a news report is all about the people you are writing about and the people, the general public, you are writing for—it will never be about a written piece about you as a writer or writing for your personal interest. So this means that you should make sure that you have focused on one or more of the affected individuals.When writing a news story, always make sure that you have an angle and a perfect angle at that. Make sure that the angle you have chosen gives an opportunity for all the sides of the story to be heard and not just one side or else you are considered as biased and your credibility will be questioned.Do not be afraid to have an angle for the fear that you will be considered as biased. Keeping an angle to your new story is a standard technique and it is not necessarily bad since this highlights the purpose and the main focus of your news story.Always keep it objective and, obviously, never subjective. Always be nonpartisan. As mentioned above, you just have to make sure that you have tried to cover all sides of the story and never just one or two. For example, there was a road accident wherein a car crashed into a motorcycle. Do not only take into account the statements of the driver of the car and the driver of the motorcycle—you also have to get the statement of the traffic enforcers, the police who responded to the incident, and yes, including the onlookers or the ones who were able to witness the incident.Speaking of getting a statement, always make sure that you will be able to directly quote the people's statement. Do not add anything just to make your story more interesting because you are not anymore writing a news story but you are already writing fiction. If you fear that you will not be able to catch on what your interviewee had said, make sure you record whatever he or she says.Speaking of interviews, if it is a scheduled or planned, phone call or face-to-face interview, you have to make sure that you have asked permission that you are to record your interview with that person as there are some countries who would consider recording any kind of conversation or interview as illegal.You are writing a news story and not a feature story so this means that you should not get flowery when it comes to describing a newsworthy event. Just write what happened. Write it as it is and do not do any more try writing in a heavily descriptive language as it is not really necessary.Sample Online News Storybemedwise.orgDetailsFile FormatSize: 352 KBDownloadSample School News Storyartt.comDetailsFile FormatSize: 332 KBDownloadTeaching How to Write a News Reportteachingenglish.org.ukDetailsFile FormatSize: 130 KBDownloadWriting a News Reportttdsb.on.caDetailsFile FormatSize: 793 KBDownloadThe Basic Components of a News StoryCurious about what makes a well-written and interesting news stories? We introduce you to the basic components of a news story.1. The HeadlineThe headline is a part of a news story where there will be at least one or two lines of the summary of the entire content of a news story or it simply tells the readers what the story is all about.Your headline is actually the part of your news report where you are to make or break because of the fact that this is also the part where you should make sure that you have grabbed the attention and interest of the reader until the rest and the end of your news story. However, the headline does more than grabbing the attention of your reader because once your headline is effective, it could already communicate the full message your entire news story intends to share.Headline Writing TipsEnsure accuracyKeep it short and simple (KISS)Don't repeat the lead on the headlineBe direct, do not use flowery wordsAlways write in the active voice and write in present tenseAvoid any bad breaks and always fill the space.Ensure your headline is appropriate to the news storyAlways know where to capitalize2. The LeadThe lead, which is often spelled as lede, is the part of a news story that is often defined as the first sentence of every news story. The lead of news story is the mark of the beginning of the story where it contains the most important facts and details of the news story or it simply answers some of the Wh+H questions, specifically the who, what, where, and when. A standard lead should be no more than 25 or 30 words. Once you will be able to write a strong lead, your readers will be unconsciously compelled to read the rest of the news story.Types of LeadsSummary leadSingle-item leadQuote leadCartridge leadQuestion leadAnalogy leadDistinct incident, picture, or contrast leadCosmic lead3. The BodyThe body of a news report is the part where one will be able to read more details and information related to the news report.This part of a news story would often expound and discuss the answers to the rest of the Wh+H questions "Why?" and "How" of the new story. This is where the supporting details of the lead will be written and this is where you will also where you can find the quotes stated by the people being interviewed for the story. The body of a newspaper is usually written in an inverted pyramid form wherein the most important or the most interesting information or details is found at the beginning and followed only by the least but still important details.4. The TailThe tail of a news report is the part where one will be able to read the less important information, which is usually omitted by the editors in the event that there is not anymore enough space left in the newspaper.We hope that with the help of these examples and tips that you will be able to write effective news stories for the world to read and benefit from.
